

This proposal is quite close to what I would ultimately like to see adopted. However, I do not support the adoption of this proposal at this time. The FCC needs to make these changes in concert with a broader revision of the rules governing the Amateur Service. By doing this, the FCC could accomplish both substantive and housekeeping changes in a single rulemaking, at a great cost saving to the taxpayer.